LAST EDITION.

THE HONORED DEAD.

Last Tribute of Respect to the Memory of the Late Vice President.

THE FUNERAL CORTAGE PASSING ON.
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 27.—The following Committee appointed by the Governor, left this city at 9:30 A. M. for West Philadelphia, where they will meet the remains of the late Vice President and escort them to Jersey City: Adjutant General Moti, commanding the National Guards, with General Perrine, General Stricker, Hon. J. W. Naylor, President of the Senate, Speaker Vanderveit, Secretary of State Kelsey, and all the State officers of the State Department meet them at Jersey City, where they will be met by the Governor, who will join the procession and escort the remains to New York. A salute of seventeen guns will be fired at the depot while the train is passing, and the bells of the different churches and the City Hall will be tolled. The train is expected to reach Trenton depot at 1:30 P. M.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The weather here to-day is clear and dry. The pageant on the arrival of the remains of Vice President Wilson, this afternoon, will be imposing. The military display will be unusually large. The troops assembled at the City Hall, at 2:30 P. M., and marched to the Cortlandt-street ferry, where they await the remains. The Courts and the Exchanges adjourned in respect to the deceased.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The remains of the late Vice President Wilson, which reached Philadelphia last evening, were conveyed under the escort of the Second Regiment and the Marines from Washington, to Independence Hall.

The rain had ceased, and the line of the procession was crowded with a dense throng of people. At midnight the coffin had been placed in the hall which was handsomely decorated. The people were then admitted to view the remains of the illustrious deceased. A continuous stream of visitors passed through the hall until this morning.

To-day at 7 A. M. a large crowd had assembled in the hall, which was thrown open. Until the hour of starting for New York, 10:30 A. M., a steady tide of visitors, many thousands in number, passed quietly around the coffin. At 10:30 the coffin was placed in the hearse, drawn by ten black horses, and was taken up as for Germantown Junction, where a special train received the funeral cortege.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Mr. Kerr Thought to be the Coming Man—Randall in the Shade and Wood Nowhere.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—The contest over the Speakership and the rolling and wire-pulling for other offices continues with unabated activity. The would-be Speakers are overrun with visitors. Mr. Kerr has a hundred to two hundred callers every day, and is quite worn out with receiving them. Mr. Kerr's friends claim that he has been misrepresented with regard to his financial position. They say that his speech in 1871, was not an inflation speech, though portions of it were so quoted as to make it appear as if he favored inflation. At the same time it is admitted that he took positions in that speech which he took not to assume now. In brief, Mr. Kerr is now in favor of a return to specie payment at the earliest possible date.

In case of his election to the Speakership, it is authoritatively stated that Mr. Kerr will not organize the committee in accordance with his own views but with those of the majority. He was asked last night what was his position with regard to the Southern Pacific railway, but he declined to answer, further than pointing to his record, which shows him to have been uniformly opposed to all subsidies.

Mr. Kerr's friends claim that he will command seventy votes on the first ballot, and the general impression is that he will have a stronger support than has heretofore been conceded him. It is also said that Mr. Cox is developing a good deal of strength, and if these assertions are well grounded, it is evident that Mr. Randall will not make as good a start in the race as his friends anticipated. Mr. Wood does not seem to be anywhere in the contest. The Speakership was the sole topic here last night.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—There is no probability that the suspension of the small banking institutions on Third avenue reported yesterday will produce any excitement or run upon any of the other savings banks. The Manufacturers' and Builders' Bank will probably pay in full, and may resume business. The People's Bank will also resume soon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The funeral of W. B. Astor, the millionaire, took place from Trinity Church this morning. Bishop Potter, Revs. Morgan, Dix, Houghton and other eminent divines were present.

ALIVE.
Matthew Crony, gate-keeper at the Penitentiary, whose skull was fractured yesterday, his brains oozing from the wound, is still alive. His vitality under the circumstances is a marvel to the physicians.

The summing up in the Scandal murder trial is progressing. Beach, counsel for prisoner, is making an able argument.

SENTENCED.
Col. Robert Des Anjos, who has been found guilty of complicity in smuggling goods through the appraiser's office at New York, was sentenced by Judge Benedict to-day to two years in the Albany penitentiary and to pay a fine of $1,000.

Yesterday, J. Riekey, a superannuated lock master here, fell into one of the locks, a distance of about twenty feet, and was instantly killed.

The Crooked Whisky Prosecutions.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—The trial of Avery was continued yesterday. The testimony of S. D. Thorp and Alfred Bevis repeated their testimony as already given in the other cases. Mr. Bevis showed letters purporting to come from Avery and Baceock, notifying the ring of the coming of the agents.

On cross-examination, he said he had been interested in the firm of Newcomb, Buchanan & Co. This created a sensation in court, and Gen. Henderson said if the defense would show that Bristol was a member of the ring, the prosecution would have him indicted at once.

G. F. Joseph, of the Treasury Department, sent Avery to St. Louis in 1872 to examine the accounts of Revenue Agent Gunther. He reported them probably all right. Avery in February handed witness a $100 package, saying it was a Christmas present from Joyce; and further remarked that it came in such a way that there could be no trouble. Witness bought a $100 draft and sent it to Joyce, but it was returned with the indorsement erased. Avery afterward said he intended to return his money also.

Late Foreign News.
WHAT SPAIN WILL DO AND WHAT SHE WILL WAIT TO BE MADE DO.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A London special says in the Spanish reply to the Washington Government nothing is conceded to the United States except that the accused man may invoke the aid of counsel before a Court-martial in Cuba. Spain promises reform in the matter of confiscation of property, but declines to adhere to the treaty of 1795.

Should Austria occupy Herzegovina, it is reported that Sir Garnet Wolseley has orders to occupy Egypt immediately. This would hasten a solution of the Eastern question.

Amusements.
THE GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—Miss Combs had a good audience last evening, who were greatly pleased with her "Lady Gay Spunkers." Next to her "Lady Teazle" this is probably her very best character, and one of which the public will never tire. She was last evening, as she always is, excellent, the description of the chase being indeed one of the finest things we have ever listened to. The other characters were all well sustained. To-night ends Miss Combs' engagement at this house, she making way for Mlle. Marie Zoe, who opens on Monday night in Haines' military drama, "The French Spy."

WOOD'S THEATRE.—Lotta gives a matinee this afternoon, and ends her engagement by a performance to-night. "Musette" has proved to be a great attraction in these parts, for either that or Lotta has drawn more people to Macaulay's Theatre during the past week than have been collected there before during this season. Furbish's Fifth Avenue Combination are announced for next week, with the original Union Square version of the "Two Orphans," which cannot but be successful, notwithstanding the fact that this is the fifth representation of the "Two Orphans" in this city.

ROBINSON'S.—A testimonial benefit was given to the Robinson Light Infantry at this house last evening, the programme consisting of "Robert Macaire" and "Bamboozling," while between the acts the Richardson and Retlaw brothers entertained the audience by feats upon the trapeze and carpet. Both the melodrama and comedy ran with surprising ease, and freedom from blunders. The ladies, Misses Chandler and Ernst, acquitted themselves in a most excellent manner, and deserved all the applause that greeted them, and more, if such a thing were possible. The "Claret-of-Leave Man" will be given this afternoon and evening.

THE NATIONAL.—Everything passed off as usual at this house last night, nothing happening to mar the pleasure of any. To-night is the grand gala night, and one of the best bills of the season is offered.

Jewelry Sale.
It can't be disputed that Rothschild, "The King Jeweler," is selling out. This is a settled fact, if the quantity of goods that are daily disposed of at this establishment is a criterion to go by. Crowded daily from 7 A. M. to 11 P. M., and everybody leaving with a pleasant and smiling countenance, feeling satisfied that they have never bought so much goods for so little money as they received at the only Grand Closing-out Sale of watches, jewelry, clocks, silverware, &c. Rothschild, 264 West Fifth street, near Central avenue.

JOHN KOHLMAN, of Lawrenceburg, a farmer living on the hill near the Manchester road, was recently sent to jail for whipping his wife; on Thanksgiving day he regained his liberty. He went home, demanded some money from his wife and was refused. He then set fire to the barn, which was filled with grain and implements, all of which were destroyed. He returned to the house and attempted to shoot his wife. Not succeeding in that he placed the pistol to his own head and fired four times. One ball flattened itself against his forehead, two glanced off doing no injury, and the last split his scalp about two inches. He is again in jail, swearing he'll kill his wife yet.

The sale of reserved seats for Tilton's lectures began this morning at Church's music store.

A. D. BROOKS, who has been a private watchman for the past ten years in the neighborhood of Pearl, Second, Sycamore and Broadway streets, about ten o'clock last night ran across Bernard Bartlett, of Newport, at the saloon of John McKorman, on Front street. Bartlett while there got very drunk, and finally started for the landing. Brooks followed him, threw him down in the mud, and went through him, taking his hat, suspenders, two pocket-books, shirt-studs and other articles, of the value of $15. Officer Cain, seeing what was going on, swooped down on Brooks and caught him standing over his victim, and at once arrested him. On the way to the Station-house Brooks dropped several of the stolen articles. At his hearing this morning he claims that he was drunk and knew nothing whatever of what happened. He was very sick in Court. The Judge has given him until next Monday to bring witnesses as to his hitherto good character. It is claimed by his policemen that he is a bad man, and has been arrested for like depredations before.
